

ROBBERS BEAT CANUTILLO MAN

J. C. Spiers Tells Police Three Men Rob Him of $17 By Assault.

J. C. Spiers, of Canutillo, Texas, was severely beaten about the head and body Monday night near Second and El Paso streets, when he resisted the attempts of three men dressed in the uniforms of private soldiers, to rob him, according to his statement to the police. Spiers was struck several times over the head with some blunt instrument, it is said, and was robbed of $17 after he had been overpowered by the men. As soon as he was able to walk to the police station and reported the robbery, giving a description of the alleged hold-up men.

Two Hold Up Jitter Driver.

Amelino Chacon, a jitter driver, was held up and robbed of about $2 in cash near Poplar and Magoffin streets late Monday night, by two men wearing black masks and armed with pistols. Chacon was ordered to leave the car, and to stand with his eyes in a certain direction, until the men could disappear into the shadows after the robbery, according to his statement. Chacon gave the police a description of the robbers.

MAYOR INVITED TO CONGRESS ON NATIONAL CONSERVATION

An invitation has been extended to Mayor Tom Lea to attend the seventh national conservation congress, to be held in New Orleans April 4 to 8. The subject taken up by the congress at this meeting will be "Flooding, a National Problem." According to the constitution of the congress, the mayor is a member, and is allowed to appoint ten delegates.

LIST YOUR ROOMS FOR Cattlemen's Convention.

Proprietors of hotels and rooming houses, as well as private homekeepers who would like to furnish accommodations for the strangers who will come to the city to participate in the proceedings of the annual convention of the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's association or to witness the Rio Grande Frontier Day sports during the week of March 5 to 11, are asked to list their rooms with the Chamber of Commerce at once. Call Telephone 180 and give the clerk answering the call the number of rooms you have, the number of beds in each room and the price per room per day. The rooms will be needed and the listing should be done at once in order that requests for rooms coming from all over the southwest may be granted.—Adv.

TWO ARE HELD ON MURDER CHARGES

Soldiers Arrested Following Death of Mexican Youth and Wounding of Another.

Two persons were wounded, one fatally, Monday night, at 8:40 o'clock, following an alleged quarrel between two soldiers and several Mexicans near the Sixth infantry regimental camp, at Eighth and Tays street. Juan Arenas, aged 18, of 1008 Tays street, died a short time after the shooting, having received a bullet wound in the left side, while Manuel Arenas, of 1008 Park street, was found at his home about an hour later, suffering from a wound in the ankle. City detectives Capt. J. E. Stowe and T. Avalant, who were working on the case only a few minutes after it occurred, arrested hanger Roy Slaughter, of company K, Sixth regular infantry, and Pito Merwin Barlow, also of company K.

ARMY SCOUTS SEEK BOND ON MURDER CHARGE; ARE DELAYED

With a charge of murder against them in connection with the death of Blas Almaraz and Felix Castillo, on February 8, near Fort Hancock, Texas, Walter Rushing and J. E. Weldon, said to be scouts for the army, appeared in the 25th district court Monday on habeas corpus proceedings brought to have bonds fixed. Owing to the absence of an important witness, the proceedings were continued. According to witnesses, the tragedy came about after two Mexicans had assaulted Rushing and taken his pistol. Rushing, sitting in the middle of the road, and that further search in the vicinity revealed a badly wounded man some yards away from where Rushing was, who had a pistol beside him, which was identified as the one that Rushing owned. Three shots had been fired from the pistol, the officer stated. He told the court that he found a dead Mexican some yards away from the wounded man, but found no weapons. Both men were transferred to the county court, Tuesday morning when charges of murder were filed.

M. ARAGON TO BUILD 3 STORY

To Cover Corner Montana and Piedras; Seven Story for Dieter Corner.

Plans are being completed by architects Braunton & Leibert for a business building on the corner of Montana and Piedras streets to cost $75,000. M. Aragon, who is putting up the building, said Tuesday:

"I am going to erect a building to cover that entire block. It will be of reinforced concrete with foundation and walls for five stories, but at present I will build only three. There will be seven storerooms on the ground floor and a bakery for George W. Weston, the restaurant man. Next to the other two stories will be added. Apartments will be built on all the upper floors."

Another Seven Story for San Antonio.

Arrangements are being made for the building of a seven-story business building on the southwest corner of San Antonio and Stanton streets, across from the Trust building. This property belongs to the J. P. Dieter estate and fronts 120 feet on San Antonio street by 125 feet on Stanton. The proposed new building will be one of the largest sky line structures in the city and will cost about $200,000.

Blumenthal's to Move.

R. Blumenthal, of Blumenthal Bros. clothing house, stated Monday that his firm expected to move to a new home in the new building. The firm now occupies first floor space in the Caples building. Its lease there expires next January, when the place will be occupied, it is said, by E. W. Woolworth & Co., New York merchants.

Macos Begins Tea Bungalows.

The Macos Realty company began work Tuesday on ten new bungalows to cost $25,000. Two of them will go up at the corner of Williams and Arizona streets, one on Dallas street, one on Williams, near Arizona; one in block 6, Castle Heights; two on Arizona street; one on Federal street, and one on Grant avenue.

Begin on Tenement and Store.

Dr. R. Rogers began work Tuesday on a tenement house on South Florence street, to cost $8,000. J. K. Turberville has begun work on a business building on South Stanton street, to cost $12,000.

Start on Aronstein-Stevens Building.

Excavation for the Aronstein-Stevens building, Santa Fe and San Francisco, was commenced Tuesday by contractor E. E. Jones. The remaining section of the old Troy laundry on Overland is being torn down.

KEEPING BETTER RECORD OF HIGHWAY CONDITIONS

Inasmuch as the Automobile club of El Paso did not systematize its information, and the printed literature available at the chamber of commerce is limited, it has been impossible to give cross-country travelers adequate information regarding roads leading out of the city. To supply this need the chamber has started making a record of road conditions for the convenience of tourists. Whenever anyone comes to the office asking for information about the roads he has just passed over, and his information is recorded.

CITY'S LAST TRIBUTE TO FUNERAL WREATH

El Paso's last tribute to the late Gen. Funston, a funeral wreath ordered by the chamber of commerce, was the most beautiful ever placed at a funeral, according to a letter received from Mrs. J. E. Darbee, a San Francisco florist. She described it as made of pink and white roses with blue, red, white and blue ribbon, with "Chamber of Commerce of El Paso" in gold.

Today's Beauty Hint

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Adv.

HIGGINS COMEN CHARTER SPECIAL

Coming to Convention Next Week in Force; May Bring Cowboy Band.

Seven hundred miles distance will not prevent the cattlemen of the north Texas Panhandle from attending the annual convention of the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's association, which will open in El Paso, March 6. Together with the cowmen of the Pecos valley, those living as far north as Higgins, Tex., will come here in a special train over the Santa Fe railroad, leaving Higgins at 8:30 the morning of March 4 and arriving here at 7:45 a. m. March 5. At Clovis, N. M., another train to leave Carlsbad on the 4th will permit Roswell, Artesia, Portales and Elida cattlemen to make connection with the El Paso train.

Cowboy Band May Come.

This arrangement will make it possible for the Higgins delegates to bring their famous cowboy band, which has been a feature of the association in the Panhandle. Cowboys are expected soon that the band will come and play in the city during the convention. The first National bank building the final meeting of the commerce chamber's entertainment committee for the coming convention will be held and last details settled for showing the visitors next week that El Paso is glad to have them. T. M. Wilcox is chairman of the committee.

Hedges Are Here.

The hedges are presented to the members of the association as they arrive at the headquarters in Hotel Paso del Norte. The hedges are in the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's Association, El Paso, 1917, and on the reverse is a key with the words, "Key to El Paso." Frontier Days Sports Nearly Ready.

Preparations for the Grande frontier days contest are going rapidly forward. "Tex" Austin, the promoter, said Tuesday, and will be finished by the end of the week. "On my last trip through Albuquerque and Las Vegas, I found that there will be a big turnout from that part of the country to the coming convention, and indications are that we will have a large number of contestants for the roping events than we can take care of. The entries that have already been made include the names of some of the best riders and ropers in the United States."

Cavalrymen Will Compete.

Cavalrymen are lined up with the soldiers for their events Monday. Picked teams from each cavalry regiment will compete in a rescue race, a machine gun race, another broncho riding, and other events.

T. P. A. POST R TO HAVE A REORGANIZATION SMOKER

Post R, the local organization of the Travelers' Protective association, will be reorganized at a smoker Saturday night in Hotel Sheldon grill. National director E. N. Mulkey, of Ada, Okla., is here accompanied by ex-president of the Texas association G. W. Baker, of Dallas, Tex., to lead in the movement to revive the local branch. The officers are calling on the members of the association to gather at the meeting. Leo Gale is the local president.
